NATIONAL PRESIDENTS REPORT

G'day,

"What a Rort!" 5 star luxury , 6 star fun was the order of the Rort days and nights of our 19th Annual get-together which was held this year in Melbourne.

The social Friday night was the usual affair of meeting old friends and greeting new "Rorters" . With nibbles being devoured by the famished mob amid smatterings of liquid refreshment , we enjoyed catching up with all the gossip of the past year.

I believe there was the odd port party until the wee small hours in several rooms.

Saturday , we boarded the busses for a tour of the city, we were set down in town for a free afternoon of exploration and money spending , then trying not to miss the tram ride back to the Radisson for drinks and nibbles before going across the road to the jazz venue for a magnificent night of feasting and dancing.

Sunday morning dawned with buses out front to take us to the M.C.G. and Como House after which it was on to the South Melbourne and the Albert Centre for lunch and the now famous "Business Session", 35 minutes in duration. A stop over at Williamstown market before returning to the hotel to prepare for the masked ball.

They came with faces covered in every imaginable concealment possible , with most being unrecognisable until the unmasking in the grand ballroom at the Radisson . The opulantly decorated tables were only to be overshadowed by masked wait persons bearing a supper befitting the Rort people in attendance , then dancing to the music of 'Rainbow' , followed by the awards given to the masked throngs and the cutting of the 21st Apex 40 birthday cake by the founders of this our Apex 40.

Monday morning , we all met for the farewell breakfast before returning to our normal place of residence .

A big THANK YOU must go to the Melbourne - Gippsland members for organising this historical Rort.

Yours in Apex 40
Glenn Rossiter

GLENN RECALLS THE POST RORT TOUR

MONDAY

After bidding farewell to Melbourne, 42 Rorters coach travelled to Warrnambool via Geelong and the Great Ocean Road with several stops for sustenance etc. and photo taking of magnificent scenery. Upon arriving and settling into the motel, we wined and dined, after which we luxuriated in the spa baths of which most rooms were endowed with. Waking in the morning to find the ablutions rather gelid as the boiler for the motel had died during the night, "Yes it was a brisk start to the day!" The Fletcher Jones shop did some good trading as we stopped there on the way to Port Campbell for lunch. The twelve apostles etc. were photographed at various stops, then back to Warrnambool to visit the maritime museum and returning to the motel for a warm spa and dinner.

WEDNESDAY

A cold front greeted us the next morning and we were on our way to Ballarat where we lunched in the park before going to Sovereign Hill to relish in our past and later in the evening to witness the sound and light show about the Eureka stockade. Back at the motel with yet another boiler fixed and re-fired indulgence in a hot shower was great.

Next morning we set out for Bendigo, arriving at lunchtime to be greeted by members of Bendigo Apex 40. After lunch it was down the mine amid screams as the solenoid cut in and out, then on with the hard hats and miners lights to witness a working gold mine with miniscule deposits of the yellow metal covered by perspex - away from sticky fingers. Blinking like owls in daylight we boarded a talking tram for a tour of the city. Back at the motel, a poolside interlude before dinner hosted by Bendigo Apex 40. Lots of see-you-laters to members of Bendigo before hitting the sack.

FRIDAY

We boarded the coach and on to Melbourne, stopping at a waterhole for mineral spa, "oh the smell", and a photo session. A trip to Mt Macedon and lunch at a winery before being offloaded at the airport and the Radisson Yes a great tour was had by all.

Because We

Are Men

If you put a woman on a pedestal and try to protect her from the Rat Race, you're a male chauvinist pig.

If you stay at home and do the housework you're a pansy.

If you work too hard, there is never any time for her and the kids; if you don't work hard enough, you're a good for nothing layabout.

If she has a boring repetitive job, with low pay, that is exploitation; if we have a boring repetitive job with low pay, we should get off our butts and find something better.

If a man gets a promotion ahead of her, that is favouritism; if she gets a promotion ahead of a man, that is equal opportunity.

If we mention how nice she looks, that is sexual harassment; if we keep quiet, that is typical male indifference.

If we cry, we're a sheila; if we don't we're an insensitive bastard.

If a man thumps her, that is wife bashing; if she thumps him, that's self defence.

If he makes a decision without consulting her, he's a chauvinist; if she makes a decision without regard to his feelings, then she's a liberated woman.

If he asks her to do something she doesn't enjoy, that is domination; if she asks him, it's a favour.

If we appreciate the female form and frilly underwear, we're sexual perverts; if we don't notice, we're poofers. If we like a woman to keep in shape and shave her legs, that is sexism; if we don't care, that is unromantic. If we try to keep ourselves in shape, that is vanity; if we don't we're slobs.

If we buy her flowers, we're after something; if we don't we're forgetful. If we are proud of our achievements, we're up ourselves; if we aren't we're not ambitious. If we ask for a cuddle, we never think of anything but sex; if we're totally wrecked after a bad day at the office, we never give a stuff about other people's needs.

If she has a headache, it's because she's tired; if he has a headache, it's because he doesn't love her anymore. If we want it to often, we're oversexed; if we can't perform on cue there must be someone else.

FOR CONTINUING FELLOWSHIP

That is the motto, or 'ideal' if you like, of Apex 40 and we were given a remarkable example of just that at the recent Melbourne Rort.

Five ex-Apexians from as far apart as south-western Victoria and north-western New South Wales met for their annual get-together at the Rort.

Peter Miller (Portland, Vic.), Rob 'Wombat' Walter (Heywood, Vic.), Brendon Ledwich (Sea Lake, Vic.), Ray Davey (Forbes, NSW) and Michael Dawson (Moree, NSW) have been meeting every year at Apex national conventions for about 12 years. Only Michael had attended an Apex 40 Rort before, the 1991 Rort in Grafton.

Not only did these fellows thoroughly enjoy themselves, they provided one of the highlights of the masked ball on the Sunday night when they appeared as dogs'-head masks, from a bulldog to a bloodhound ! Or at least four of them appeared as dogs - Mike Dawson hid behind a sheep's head . They also entertained a number of non-Apex 40 diners as they passed the open-sided restaurant at the Radisson or , rather, startled them. "Wombat" (the bulldog) barked at a few diners, and Mike bleated at one surprised lady - "I hope that's not lamb your eating !"

Congratulations to these fellows on their unique example of "continuing fellowship". We will undoubtedly see more of them at future Rorts. Unfortunately they will find it hard to shake off the label of "the dogs".

Other welcome new faces at the Rort were Gary and Bev Hayton and Ross and Robyn Giblett from Dubbo. This quartet certainly enjoyed themselves , even though the ladies had been reluctant starters. Ross especially enjoyed the red wine at the Friday night welcome social, and Gary "pissed off" with the Wizzy trophy ! Dubbo is , as yet, just an "old Boys" club but Bev and Robyn are working on that and at the next ladies night (!) will be sporting their very own Apex 40 name badges.

Colin and Maryanne Hambrecht from Tamworth enjoyed their first Rort. Colin paid for the weekend when he visited the Homes Show at the Exhibition and found a staircase that will save him a packet on his renovations. Barry Gazzard , also from Tamworth, wasn't quite so fortunate ; broke his arm just before going to the Rort and spent the weekend keeping his outstretched , plaster encased arm out of the way of meandering Rorters. We hear that Barry and Lorraine are soon to be married (perhaps they are by now) - congratulations and best wishes to you both.

Newspeak for the Nineties

AS WE advance further into the sensitive decade of the 1990s, we need to learn a completely new range of politically correct, non-gender-specific terms.

Woe-betide any insurance applicant or claimant who uses words or phrases that could even remotely carry connotations of race, sex, creed, age or disability. To help you work your way through this new lexicon of the caring classes, here are a few examples, complete with translations.

Hopefully, you will soon get the hang of it (Oops! should we have said "vertical suspension"?):

Chronologically over-compensated – Old

Calorifically overloaded – Fat

Vertically challenged – Short

Medically impaired – Sick

Respiratorially non-performing – Dead

Structurally oxidised senior vehicle – Rust bucket

Follicularly impaired, pressurised wheel covers – Bald tyres

Pharmaceutically focussed – Stoned

Visually challenged & alcoholically over indulged – Blind Drunk

Intellectually under-endowed other – Third party

Oral overachiever – Big mouth

Involuntary vehicle ownership transfer – Car theft

Exhuberantly overvalued loss – Padded claim

Motivationally misdirected – Fraudulent

Pyrotechnically over enthusiastic – Arsonist

Fiscally retentive insurer – Doesn't pay claims

THE RORT REPORT

Apex 40 indeed celebrated its 21st birthday in fine style at the Rort held April 1 - 4 at the Radisson President Hotel. All of the functions were held inside the hotel with the exception of Saturday night.

After being met at the airport, participants were driven to the hotel by members of Melbourne/Gippsland club, the hosts of the Rort. Once registered, we moved on to our rooms to be met by a beautiful tray of fruit, nuts, dried fruit, chocolates and liquid refreshments, all compliments of the sponsors.

The welcome social in the Grand Waldorf Room got everyone in fine spirits for the weekend of festivities. It is here where new friendships develop and established ones are expanded with much hand shaking and other forms of welcome.

With heavy heads, we boarded buses for tours around Melbourne, a beautiful clean city of which around 20% is parkland or open space. Visiting the Botanical Gardens, M.C.G. and Sports Museum and the local markets for lunch and a free afternoon at your leisure.

The evening function was held at the Powerhouse Club, a function centre across the road from the hotel which served up a great meal, an eight piece jazz band till midnight and lots of free liquor. A great night of dancing and drinking.

Breakfasts were served in the State Ballroom of the hotel each morning. Buses again for more touring of Melbourne and more craft markets then on to the Albert Centre around the lake for a lovely lunch and the business which took the same time as the fine session, around 15 minutes each — and more free drinks.

The 21st Birthday Masquerade Dinner Dance was held in the Grand Waldorf Ballroom where everyone turned up in masks. A magnificent night of fun, frivolity, dancing, drinking and fine food adding inches to most waistlines.

After the farewell breakfast, 42 participants boarded a coach for the post Rort tour which travelled to Geelong then along the Great Ocean Road to Warrnambool where we overnighted two nights to allow time to take in the magnificent coastal scenery and the maritime museum of the shipwreck coast.

Onwards to Ballarat for the night stay where dinner and the night was spent at Sovereign Hill for the sound and light show, a very moving experience. Again touring through the botanical gardens of this pretty city before moving on through the central highlands to Bendigo.

Here we visited our second gold mine, toured on a talking tram and had a wonderful dinner dance with the Bendigo Apex 40 members before trying out some of Victoria's new poker machines on the motor lodge we stayed at.

Returning into Melbourne later that afternoon after lunch at a winery, we booked back into the Radisson and went out to see the live performance of West Side Story at the Princess Theatre. Flying out Saturday for a well deserved rest at home!

All in all, an excellent Rort that left nothing to be desired. The committee of Melbourne/Gippsland Apex 40 did the birthplace of our organisation proud and everyone is looking forward to a continuation next year in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

AROUND THE BRANCHES

ALSTONVILLE - Have held a Progressive Dinner, with 29 members attending, followed by a meeting at a Chinese Restaurant. Produce an excellent newsletter - Well Done Peter!

MELBOURNE-GIPPSLAND - Members had a great way of raising funds, by working at the Optus Players Golf Tournament. Are recovering from the terrific effort the club put into hosting the Rort.

WERRIBEE - Their next function is "Breakfast On The Yarra", with a bike ride along the riverside for the energetic. Had a meeting at Lake Eppaloch and are planning to celebrate "Christmas In June".

DUBBO - Had two couples attend their first Rort, and they had a ball!! They took home the WIZZY TROPHY and are looking forward to the next Rort in Malaysia. Their newsletter is simply called "Over The Hill".

WYONG - Held a night out at a Chinese Restaurant where members enjoyed a Chinese Banquet for $10 a head. April meeting consisted of a barbecue dinner followed by a night out at the Theatre to see performance by the local Drama Group. Having a weekend away in May touring the Pokolbin Wineries. Wyong will be hosting the 1996 Rort.

CASINO - Held a Lawn Bowls Challenge Match against Casino Apex. Quote..."Fortunately, experience, cunning, innate charm and good looks are worth something in this world, and WE WON". The club is also assisting Casino Apex with their membership drive and helping the club with service work during Beef Week.

TAMWORTH - Had one barbecue cancelled due to a fire ban, January, and had the following barbecue called off due to lack of numbers. Are now looking at meeting every third Wednesday of the month. The club's newsletter is called "The Walking Stick".

REDLANDS - Looking to having guest speakers or entertainers at their Dinner Meetings (Did I read something about a Belly Dancer?????:Ed)

MORELLA - Have a great idea for organising functions. Members names are picked out of a hat to organise the event....that way, everyone has a go.

NAMBOUR - One of our newest clubs, Nambour are having their next meeting at a hospitality training restaurant (run by T.A.F.E.) at a cost of $15 ahead for a 3 course a-la-carte meal. Are looking at having a weekend whale watching at Hervey Bay.

GOLD COAST - Next meeting is at an Italian Restaurant. Held a Champagne Breakfast early in the year with 35 members attending. Have already planned their Christmas '94 function.

BENDIGO - Had a 10 Pin Bowling night. A few couples attended the Rort with the club hosting the Post-Rort Tour for a day showing Rorters the sights of Bendigo.

MALACCA - Club hosted sixty-odd children from the Ramakrishna Ashram Home and gave them a sumptuous vegetarian dinner as well as distributing old clothing and t-shirts to them. Are busy planning Rort '95 with the other Malaysian Apex 40 Clubs. At their March meeting one member, Ravi, was chauffeur driven in his brand new limousine (which is equipped with a built-in bar plus colour T.V. to boot)...only thing missing was a blonde escort! Quote..."After the meeting, members made a bee-line to give the car the once-over. Unfortunately the built-in bar was dry and it was decided to move on to the M.I.A....No!...M.I.A. is not Missing-In-Action (which probably would have been the case had the blonde been there)...it is Malaccan Indian Association... least I be misquoted by the editor of the Roaring 40's. As luck would have it M.I.A. was no fun place that evening....better luck next time I hope!"
